NEW LIFE INSURANCE CO. HERE

"Our Town"

by J. B. WHITE

All of a sudden, when the earlier sun wakes you on a March morning, your mind unfolds to a sense of change. The room's the same: The task of filling out your income tax blank still taunts you, you remember that the leavings of the twelfth ton of coal won't least the week out—but something is different! Not exactly that, but something is there that wasn't there yesterday. Nor is that just it. Whatever it is, it's new and not new. It's like a memory come to life—a delightful memory.

You trace it to the tip of a nearby telephone pole—and the clear trills and rills of the song-sparrow send thrills all through you, and you know the birds are beginning to come back!

Some other morning soon the chorus will be full enough to waken you—song will outdo the sun. As it grows from day to day, you'll hear it in a promise of no more tending the heater—for six months—and no more trudging through snow and slush; no more cough drops, camphorated oil or mustard coats Also more fresh vegetables and motoring along country roads fringed with a green mist, dandelions, and cherry and green apple pies, and magnolious things without number.

"How fine to have the birds back!" you'll say to yourself. Have you ever stopped to think what would happen if they didn't come back? Well, in a season or two it would mean the end of life on this planet. That's all!

Spring is an untiring miracle, no less so today when men were more inevitably concerned with the seasonal moods of mother earth. The ancient mystery is renewed each year by which rich life and color and eager growth spring again from the winter-locked land. A few days of kindly sun and the resurrection is begun, the life restores, the world renewed with beauty.

Life endures the winter but blossome with the spring. All things good and full of promise answer the warm welcome of a friendly sun. Because nature is grown again, the world is once more fruitful.

From this seasonal certainty we may pick a lesson. Men likewise grow better and work better in good weather. Hard times and harsh discipline, whether of men or circumstances, may test and toughen endurance and stiffen courage and fiber, but growth and usefulness flourish better in the warth of good will and kindliness. These are the spring tonic of human life, which can awaken all its hidden powers and riches. We grow better, work better and are in all ways happier in the habit of mutual encoragement and the widespread warmth of genuine good will.

Many people have not learned to look upon advertising in the light of the realistic rhymester of an oldentime who penned this famous verse on advertising:

Go forth in haste; with bills and paste
Proclaim, to all creation,
That men are wise who advertise
In every generation.

In large part the public regards advertising as being of possible advantage to the advertiser for which the consumer pays, and yet the facts prove otherwise. Time and again has it been shown that well judged, properly conducted and persistent advertising inures to the benefit not only of the person who attracts attention to his wares in this manner, but also of the community.

After interviewing large numbers of distributors as to the economic effects of advertising, a committee of the national distribution conference reports:

"Broadly speaking, it would seem that where the advertising creates an increased demand for products of a certain class a wider distribution of such products—in other words, makes new business, bringing about lessened distribution costs and lessened production costs owing to increased demand—there can be no doubt as to the value of such advertising, not merely to the concerns that pay for it

COACH WOOD SIGNS TWO YEAR CONTRACT

Coach L. C. Wood has signed the two year contract tendered him by the Cameron School Board, he announced on Monday.

The contract is for two years at an increase in salary. The board has taken into consideration the record made by Coach Wood and his worth to the system.

As Yoemen coach he has won two district titles and one regional in three years. It was a sheer coaching job, the board points out, with only a small number of boys to build from.

Cameron has one of the largest student bodies in central Texas but does not have anything above average number of candidates for the football squad.

The salary increase voted to Coach Wood was not announced but it is understood it was attractive enough to get the best Class B. coach in Texas to sign on the dotted line for two years.

COW PROGRAM IS DAIRY NEED HERE

No definite program has been made on the proposed five year program for dairy development in Milam county, so far as the vital factor of supplying cattle is concerned.

Public sentiment has been aroused somewhat in favor of such a program and Chairman F. E. Woodruff is visiting the communities and has organized a night school under E. D. Parnell at Hanover where farmers seem interested.

There was little hope of the plan succeeding unless some way can be found to finance dairy cattle. This need along with other secondary factors almost caused Kraft-Phoenix Cheese Company to close their plant in Cameron. The company now plans to go ahead with the hope of development in the territory.

Better rural roads are sought as a means of aiding farmers to get to milk routes.

Pictures taken in hospital s for crippled children were exhibited here Wednesday in a benefit program for the Marlin hospital.

Cameron has contributed liberally to this fund and 18 children from the county have received treatment at Marlin.

Due to the tremendous outlay of money and the necessity of this work it has been decided to offer seals for sale at Easter time. The funds would be used for children who are recovering in their homes after hospitalization.

Bond Election at Milano Saturday

A bond election to raise $25,000 to build a new school at Milano will be held on Saturday, March 6th.

The election will determine whether the present tax of 75c will continue. No additional taxes are contemplated. Milano school is said to need additional housing space.

Play For Chamber Commerce Banquet March 9th

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE BANQUET MARCH 9TH

Interest was gathering momentum here this week for the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet on Tuesday night March 9th.

R. L. Bobbitt of San Antonio, newly appointed member of the state highway commission and former attorney general of Texas, will deliver the principal address.

O. C. Acrey has been made general chairman for the banquet program. The Tamburitza band from St. Edward's University in Austin will play. The banquet is to be held in the basketball court of the gymnasium.

Albert Collins, president , will deliver the annual report of the organization. Election of officers and directors will be announced from the result of a poll taken this week by mail.

Lions Will Meet Thursday Night

Cameron Lions will meet Thursday night in the cafeteria of the Ada Henderson school. President Parnell says it is an important meeting.

A delegation of Lions from Austin will be present. The meeting will decide upon a permanent meeting place. The cafeteria cannot entertain the club during daytime. The club plans a minstrel show.

New Manager for Grant Lumber Co.

R C. Holden, formely of Wichita Falls, has accepted a position with the John F. Grant Lumber Company here as manager. Mr. Holden has been associated with lumber companies for a number of year. He will succeed F. R. Dunlap who retired March 1.

Fine Motto: Don't look for wider fields until you cultivate those you have.

AGED SUFFER THROUGH NEGLECT BY THE STATE

It was said here Wednesday that re-investigation of applications by aged people in Milam county, had been completed and all papers in connection with the cases have been lodged with the district office.

This does not mean that aged people will get their pension. It means completion of another link in the chain of red tape. Some of the aged people, in need, have come to believe the chain is a long one with many links.

Private investigators here have revealed many aged people, some who have never received any encouragement, are in actual need and apparently no further along in their claims than when they first filed, over a year ago. This condition is especially true among aged negroes. Only yesterday three aged negro women in Cameron, well past 70 years, in actual need, were found to have received no word from their applications placed last year.

Some have come with statements from doctors certifying to their feeble health. On the whole the picture is dark for these aged people. Harsh conditions laid down by the commission at Austin are responsible for suffering among them.

This from an aged man who has but a few years to live: "I wish to state that I am now living with my son and daughter in law who have other dependents and neither are physically or financially able to care for me."

Another typical letter: "I am 66

CATHOLIC MISSION OPENS HERE SUNDAY

Plans were completed late Wednesday by Rev. Geo. Apel, pastor of St. Monica's church, for the Mission to be held here beginning Sunday morning.

Rev. James Dreis will conduct the mission.

Father Apel said the order of worship Sunday would be as follows: Opening at 8 a. m. Sunday. In the evening the services will begin at 7:30 and will open with a hymn. The Rosary will follow and then will be announcements.

The song "Come Holy Ghost" will be sung and another hymn will follow. The remainder of the Sunday service will be as follows: O Salutoris; Five Our Fathers, a prayer for conversion of sinners; Tantum Ergo.

During the six days to follow Mass will be celebrated at 6:15 each morning and again at 8:30 a. m.

Father Apel said that the order of worship for each evening would be the same as that for Sunday.

Legion Official Coming to Cameron

Fred Young, department adjutant for the Texas American Legion, will be in Cameron on Tuesday night, March 16, for a meeting with the local post, E. W. Streetman, local adjutant reports.

A picture program will be given and barbecue will be served. All members are requested to attend and give the official a warm welcome.

YOUR CO-OPERATION

The most acute problem of the newspaper is to accommodate the material submitted for publication. Each week a large volume of matter is submitted. It is not always possible to print it. We ask your co-operation. When you send anything to print, make it brief and state the facts so that it can be readly understood and read in brief. Do not use propaganda or advertising. Newspapers must be paid for advertising space. In the future The Herald will print only matter of news importance and will restrict its number of pages to a standard that will be profitable. Any other policy will be disastrous. Cameron newspapers give more to their community than any other weekly publications in Texas. They deserve your co-operation both in printing the news and in advertising patronage.

MID AMERICAN OPENS HOME OFFICE IN CITY

Cameron's prestige as an insurance center was soaring to the top to-day with the announcement that the Mid-American Life Insurance Company, an old line legal reserve company, had been organized with home offices in this city.

Dr. W. R. Newton, Sr., is the president of the company, and Dr. W. R. Newton, Jr., is secretary and treasurer.

A charter issued by the State of Texas with a fully paid legal cash reserve starts off the new company under the most favorable auspices. It was not definitely announced but indications were the officers would be located in the First National Bank building.

The company will write ordinary life and industrial contracts. Dr. Newton said that while no policies have been issued, application blanks would be in the hands of agents within a day or two and business would begin.

Location of the home office in Cameron makes certain that the city which has so signally honored Dr. W. R. Newton, Sr., would get the maximum benefits from the company. Cameron is regarded as the hub of a vast and profitable territory in the insurance field.

EDITORIAL

In attending a chapel program at any school, what kind of chapel atmosphere would one expect to find? What would one think if he attended and as soon as the participants in the program appeared upon the stage, he heard all kinds of heckling remarks from students in the audience? One would feed as if the remarks were from a group of ill-mannered students, would he not? Most students do not mean to be ill-mannered or discourteous. The neckling is their method of enjoying the program, but what about the ones on the stage who are giving the program? Are they getting a square deal? What about members of the audience who are trying to listen to the program? Are they getting a square deal? It is difficult enough for a performer on the stage to play his part with credit to himself and his school without interruptions and distractions hurled at him from members of the assembly. It would be much better for a student to try to assist him with a sympathetic attiude and a silent attention than by "razzing" him.

By the time a person has become a high school student, he is supposed to have put away childish things and should act with a certain amount of courtesy and refinement. Mrs. Helen Starrett author of "The Charm of Fine Manners," defines coutesy as kindliness toward a person and respect for his feeling; so if one wishes to be courteous, he will act with respect to his fellow classmates, not only at some formal place, but also in general assembly.

JUNIORS STAGE THE GENTLEMAN FROM GEORGIA

Adele Slama, Ray Hubert Brashear, Milton Leech and Aleyne Humbles starred in a loud and sprightly comedy presented by the Junior Class Friday night. The play started very interestingly, worked up to a climax, and fizzled away in the last acts. The acting was remarkable, especially in the first and third acts, and represented a great deal of earnest if not hard work. The plot concerned a family whose affairs always took the most unexpected turns. Aleyne and Milton, as the babies of the family, were according to a lady who ought to know, "too ture to be good." They were, however, very good. Iva Earl Heath, the mother of these infants, presented a picture of staid maternity which was balanced only by the partrayal of a fat girl who was forever trying to lose weight, by Mary Frances White.

Others in the cast were Henry Etta Williams, Birdie Sheguit, Eloise Frisby, Ben Walker, Rex Lowe. Miss Martha Witherspoon, Junior sponsor, directed the play. Misses Mary Ive Hardage and Margaret Bloebaum and Harvey Yoe were in charge of the properties, advertising and ticket sale. Hostesses for the evening were Clara Baskin, Mary Ann Green, Margaret Martin, Josephine Newton, Virginia Weems, Nell Williams, Myrtle Stidham and Edna Richter.

The Properties committee was composed of Virginia Weems, Mary Ann Green and Nell Williams. The advertising committee was Mary Frances White, Williford Baldwin and Milton Leech. The ticket committee included Virginia Weems, Josephine Newton, Mary Ann Green and Dana Kestenbaum.

CAMERON WINS F. F. A. COUNTY BASKETBALL CHAMPIONSHIP

The Cameron F. F. A. basketball team won the county championship Thursday by defeating San Gabriel 35-4, Thorndale 39-10 and Rockdale 19-18.

The second string played the entire game against San Gabriel and half of the game with Thorndale.

Rockdale was the hardest opposition. The score was tied 4-4 at the quarter, and 6-6 at the half. The third quarter found the Rockdale team one point ahead, 14-13, but Cameron forged ahead during the last quarter to nose them out 19-18.

The Cameron boys will play Thrall in the near future, for the district F. F. A. championship.

FARM PROGRAM FOR THE NATION IS ANNOUNCED

FOLLOWS LINES OF 1936 SETUP

According to County Agent George Banzhaf, tentative details of the 1937 Program have been received in the County Office: The Program for 1937 is very similar to that of 1936 except that several of the crops have been reclassified or a slight change made in the classification.

Under the 1937 Program, payment will be made for diversion of certain soil-depleting crops to soil-conserving crops. The Regulations also provide for payment to a producer who reduces any of his soil-depleting crops below the base and who does not plant the land to any crop. Provided that he does not plant any crop on the land that he has taken out of a soil-depleting crop, a deduction of $3 an acre will be made for no soil-conserving crop's having been planted on the acreage diverted. The maximum diversion that will be paid for in 1937 is 35 per cent of the cotton base and 15 per cent of the general base. There is no minimum or required acreage to be diverted in order that a producer may qualify for a payment. We would suggest, however, that a farmer divert at least 20 per cent of his cultivated acreage.

Soil-Depleting Crops

The crops listed below are classified as soil-depleting and will be counted against either the cotton base or the general soil-depleting base:

Corn, cotton, potatoes, sugar cane, truck and vegetable crops, including melons and strawberries; peanuts harvested for nuts, grain sorghums, sweet sorghums, millet, broom corn, and sudan grass harvested for any purpose, small grains harvested for any purpose.

Neutral Crops

The neutral crops, which count neither soil-depleting or soil-conserving, are listed below:

Grain sorgums planted in rows and not harvested or plowed under; vineyards, fruits trees, bush fruits, nut trees which are cultivated; idle cropland, non-cropland, pasture, and range land, waste land, and woodland.

Soil-Conserving Crops

All legumes, including vetch, peas, alfalfa, Kudzu, lespedeza, etc., grasses including Dallis, rye grass, orchard, bermuda and carpet, or grass mixtures; small gains sown in the Fall and turned under in the Spring, provided a reasonably good growth is turned under before the grains pass through the dough stage; forest trees planted on cropland since Jan. 1, 1934. Grain sorghums are soil-conserving only when planted in rows if all of the crop is turned under green. When grain sorghum is broadcast, it may be pastured, plowedunder, or left on the land. Sweet sorghums, millet, and sudan are soil-depleting if harvested, but are soil-conserving when pastured, plowed under, or left on the land.

Interpanting Crops

There has been a slight change in the Rulings regarding interplanting of peas and corn, or peas and other soil-depleting crops. In 1937 the total acreage so interplanted will be classed as soil-depleting, and the portion of the acreage actually in soil-conserving crops will be classed as soil-conserving. Due to the above mentioned change, in many instances if a producer plants his diverted acreage one row of corn and one row of peas, or two rows of corn and one row of peas, such practice will materially reduce his payments. Therefore, this office will not advise interplanting in 1937, except in special cases.

Payments are designated as Class I and Class II, described as follows: the Class I or soil-conserving payment will be made for each acre diverted from either the cotton base or from the general soil-depleting or grain base, and the Class II or soil building payment will be made for carrying out certain soil building practices on land diverted from either of the soil-depleting bases.

An attempt has been made to set forth the details of the 1937 program that will benefit farmers at this season of the year. At a later date meetings will be held throughout the County to discuss the Program more in detail than we are permitted to do here.

Farmers may secure additional information by either calling at the office of the County Agent or by mail. A postal card will be sufficient.

Old Age

years old and filed my application a year ago. I never heard from Austin. I am poor and sick and have to take medicine all the time." An aged negro woman who has lived in Cameron for many years said: "I am 72 and own no property and have no income and besides I live in the house with a crippled son. I am too old to work anymore and I don't know what to do."

Another from a white woman 79 years of age. "I am 79 and without means of support and live with my sister who also has applied for the pension." This aged woman is almost destitute and still nothing has happened to encourage her to live another year or two. She will soon die and it is certain she will not have the necessities when that dark hour comes.

Then there's an old slave negro whose hair is white. He was born in 1859, belonged to a prominent Louisiana physician and came to Cameron 77 years ago. He applied a year ago. He lives with his aged wife in a cabin close to town. He hobbles about doing what work he can get to do. His case was brought to the attention of the commission in Austin. He now gets his check, the first one coming in February. He will not live much longer but his last days will be secure. The pension amendment was voted for all the aged people. Only a short sighted government policy keeps them from getting their share.

In all there are around 100 cases of this pathetic circumstance. Others are sending in their names. Their feet are finding a path to nowhere. It won't be long now until they are dead and someday Texas will regret not having paid them.

The American Legion took no part in the recent stunt program given for the benefit of the band and has requested correction on the publicity that preceded the program.

"At the stunt night program held recently at the school, the American Legion was advertised as taking part. This is a mistake as the post was not even asked, therefore made no promises to take part. Less Monthly Discomfort

Many women, who formerly suffered from a weak, rundown condition as a result of poor assimilation of food, say they benefited by taking CARDUI, a special medicine for women. They found it helped to increase the appetite and improve digestion, thereby bringing them more strength from their food.

Naturally there is less discomfort at monthly periods when the system has been strengthened and the various functions restored and regulated.

Cardui, praised by thousands of women, is well worth trying. Of course, if not benefited, consult a physician.

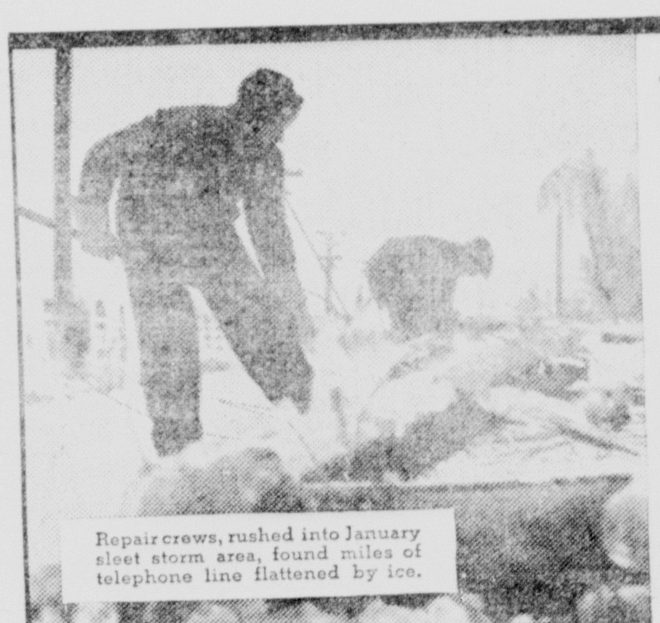
CAMERON—COMING SOON



Repair crews, rushed into January sleet storm area, found miles of telephone line flattened by ice.

This lineman is patching through an emergency telephone line to an isolated town.

TELEPHONE MEN STILL WORKING TO REPAIR ICE-WRECKED LINES

Telephone men, still at work repairing damage from the $1,500,000 sleet which swept from the Iowa border to the Gulf in January, can remember no worse ice storm.

Yet they found, as they set about replacing 26,000 poles and 18,000 miles of wire leveled by the blast, that this year's disaster actually did less damage than the smaller 1924 ice storm. The reasons:

First—Most telephone poles today are creosoted yellow pine. They stand under ice that would snap poles used years ago.

Second—Constructed at heavy cost several years ago, an underground long distance cable through the heart of the storm belt "carried on." It formed a backbone of communication from which emergency lines could quickly be "patched through" to almost 100 isolated towns.

These things . . . improvements of the last 10 years . . . are a part of the Bell System's constant effort to make its lines proof against storm and disaster.

To those customers who were without service because of the storm, perhaps for several days, the company expresses its appreciation for their patience during a trying period.

Unemployment Compensation in Texas

What is the Merit System of Rating?

Question 21—"Just what is meant by the merit system of rating for employers under the Texas Unemployment Compensation Act?"

Answer—The theory of the merit system of rating is that the employer with a good labor record—one whose employment is stabilized—should be rewarded, and the employer with a bad record should be penalized.

So far as contributions are concerned, the merit system will go into effect after December 31, 1940; will affect the tax on payrolls during 1941 and succeeding years.

But the merit system is actually in effect today. The Commission will keep a separate account for each employer, starting with that employer's first tax payment. This account will contain two items: I. the total of his contributions or taxes, and 2. the total compensation or benefits paid out to those who had been employed by him—that is, those benefits directly chargeable to his particular account.

Beginning with payments due in January, 1941, it will be possible for an employer to have a record which will enable him to pay a lower tax rate; or, if his record is bad, his tax rate will be more than the average.

It must be made plain that the merit system does not mean that employees of a certain firm will draw benefits from the contributions made only by that firm. All the money collected will go into one big fund, and all employes in the state share jointly in that fund.

The merit system is solely a system of beekkeeping. The rates under the merit system will b explained in the next article.

How Much Does an Employer Pay Under the Merit System?

Question 22—"How will the amount of tax that I, as an employer, pay under the merit system be determined?"

Answer—When the Commission sets your tax rate for 1941 and after, your personal account will be consulted as to 1. the total amount you have contributed to the fund, and 2. the total amount of benefits charged against those contributions.

With these two totals as a base, an exact mathematical formula has been set down in the law for the working out of the rate. It can best be demonstrated by taking a hypothetical case.

Suppose your average annual payroll for five years—1936-1940 was $10,000 a year. At the fixed tax rates set down in the law for those years, your total contributions by 1941 would be $1,080.

Now subtract the total amount of benefits charged against your account from the total of your contributions. The law says that if the amount you paid in exceeds the amount paid out to your employees by a sum equal to 7 1-2 to 10 percent of your average annual payroll, then you will be taxed at a rate of one and eight-tenths per cent on your payroll.

Take the above figures and apply this formula:

1. With your total contributions $1,080 and your average annual payroll $10,000, you could qualify for the one and eight-tenths per cent rate if the benefits charged against you are not more than $330 nor less than $80.

$10,000—average annual payroll.
1,080—contributions from 1936-1941.
330—benefits paid out from '36-'41.
750—excess of contributions over benefits.
750—seven and one-half per cent of your average annual payroll.
$1,080—total contributions.

80 total benefits paid out.
1,000—excess of contributions over benefits.
1,000—excess of contributions over benefits.
1,000—ten per cent of your average annual payroll.

2. The second merit rating is for all employers whose excess of contributions over benefits is more than ten per cent. These employers get a tax rate of nine-tenths of one per cent on their payroll.

3. The third rating under the merit system is a demerit rating. Those whose benefits paid out exceed the total of their contributions must pay a tax rate of 3.6 per cent unless they can showe some unusual reason such as fire, act of God, etc., for their high unemployment record.

4. For all employers whose records are not good enough to entitle them to a merit rating, and whose records are not bad enough to place them in the demerit class, the rate from 1940 on will be 2.7 per cent on their payroll.

"LLOYD'S OF LONDON"

Against the turbulent canvas of adventure and intrigue which forms the pulse-stirring background of "Loyds of London," the picture that has startled two continents and which comes to the Cameron Theatre Thursday and Friday, March 4 and 5, there stands out one of the great love stories of all time, when fierce courage and vengeful fury fought to the death for a love that flamed while the fate of an empire hung in the balance.

Packed with the thrill of forbidden kisses that changed the destiny of a whole empire, as the fateful lovers forgot everything but that they were man and woman in each others arms, the new Twentieth Century-Fox triumph tells the story of human passions that were inextricable woven with the course of history.

Co-starring in this Twentieth Century-Fox is Tyron Power, the screen's new sensation, and beautiful Madeleine Carroll.

PHOTOS TO AID RIVER CONTROL PROGRAM

Aerial photographs of the 300 square mile Navasota river reservoir area, one of 13 major units in the Brazos flood control project, will be taken as soon as weather conditions permit.

John A. Norris, general manager of the project, said today a contract has been let to the Southwestern Aerial Surveys of Austin to fly the reservoir area immediately.

After the aerial pictures are taken. Major Eric Haquinius, chief of mapping and surveys for the Brazos District, will send field parties into the area and begin to make maps.

The Navasota reservoir is estimated to cost $2,312,000. It is the last of the 13 areas to be flown and mapped. The projected Navasota dam is 1,430 feet long and will have a storage capacity at spillway level of 318,000 acres feet of water.

Mr. Norris also announced investigations have been authorized to determine availability of dam sites on three small streams contributing to the Brazos runoff—Salado, Brushy and Yegua creeks.

Flood waters of these creeks eventually would be controlled by small dams tieing in with the major dams in the Brazos project. Major Baquinius soon will send field parties into these areas to collect basic data and select possible dam locations.

Salado creek runs through northern Williamson county into southern Bell county to join the Little river at Three Forks. Brushy creek runs through southeastern Williamson and southwestern Milam counties, and flows into the San Gabriel below Cameron. Yegua rises in southern Milam county flows southeast between Lee and Burleson and between Washington and Burleson counties, and into the Brazos near Allen farm in Brazos county.

A net work of these smaller dams is planned on such lesser streams when the main dams are completed.

THE WASHINGTON STAGE

REVIEWED BY

W. R. POAGE

OUR CONGRESSMAN

Last Monday I had my first opportunity to see the House spend the people's money without debate. It was what is known as Consent Calendar Day. That means that some fifty bills, most of which appropriated money or raised salaries, were called up and passed in less than one minute to each bill. No one except the committee knows anything about the content of the bills. It is true that there is a committee that is supposed to be familiar with the bills and that members of this committee are supposed to object to bad bills, but membership of this committee is unwelcome and it is little wonder that they let lots of things pass that should not be passed and the other members don't know what is in the bills and can't find out until they are already up.

This is but another example of the evils of the everly-large membership of Congress and especially of the House of Representatives. There are 435 Members of the House and of course it is necessary for it to work under very strict rules and these rules of necessity make it impossible for the individual to have much to do with the operation of the House. The committees report on the bills and the committees control the debate on the floor when a bill is being discussed. Where a bill is being discussed under a rule that allows debate, the chairman of the committee that brought the bill in has charge of half the time and the ranking minority (Republican) member of the committee has charge of the other half and any member that wants to speak has to get permission from one of these gentlemen. The practice actually gives the Republican members a better chance than the Democrats, as there are about four times as many Democrats as Republicans. I have often heard our people compain of the poor order in the Texas House of Representatives, but it is vastly better than the order here. The membership is so large here that I suppose disorder is inevitable, but I think one of the chief factors in bringing this about is the purpose for which speeches are made. At Austin a member who speaks always at least tries to change some votes or to in some way influence action on the part of the membership. He knows that his speech is not going to be printed and the people out home will probably never know what he says. He must convince those in the Hall. Here a member knows that he will not in all probability be able to influence anyone in the Hall, but his remarks will be printed and sent home. So he speaks for home onsumption and often doesn't care whether other members hear him or not.

I sometimes think we might be better off if we did not print a Record; but, of course, the fundamental trouble is the large membership of the House. I think there is no doubt that it would be better if we had fewer members; even though I might be one of those to be eliminated, I would gladly support a proposal to reduce the membership.

I attended the great Testimonial dinner given to Hon. James A. Farley at the Mayflower Hotel. It was the largest I ever attended and as a country boy I felt a little ill at ease. The President attended and spoke, while our own Jack Garner acted as toastmaster. Most of the Texas Delegation, as well as a number of distinguished citizens from Texas including the Governor, were present. I hope that we will be able to show Mr. Farley next month when he comes to Waco and Temple that Texas can give him just as sincere a welcome as can Washington.

Two more major appropriation bills were passed this week covering the Post Office and Treasury Departments, carrying a combined appropriation of $1,500,955,151. I will be glad when we get through passing these great appropriation bills, as of necessity they always involve such tremendous sums of money, and I have always been conservative in these matters.

The Farm Credit Administration announced this week that the emergency crop and feed laons recently authorized by Congress will be available in all Districts before the end of the week. The interest rate for this year is 4% per annum and it was announced that the loans would be made as in former years by field representatives assisted by local crop loan committees in the various counties.

Car Designer Joins Staff of Gulf Co.

Looking toward the further development of its already vast research work on petroleum products, the Gulf Oil Corporation has added to its research staff a famous automotive engineer and designer whose name is synonyous with automobile in this country.

Harry A. Miller, whose racing cars have been winning championship cups on American tracks since 1911 and whose engines have won every Indianapolis Speedway Memorial Day classics during the last nine years, has accepted an appointment to the Gulf staff, and will begin a series of practical experiments in the use of gasoline and other petroleum products.

To Conduct Tests

In announcing the appointment Mr. H. P. Hobart, General Manager of Lubrication Sales for Gulf, declared that one phase of Millers work will be to subject Gulf products to the most exacting practical tests and punishment in search of ways to still further improve them. Proper gasoline and oil are vital factors in getting top speed and performance from engines and Gulf believes that Miller's experience and ability fits him ideally for the job it has outlined for him.

A list of the "immortals" of automobile racing would include Harry A. Miller whose famous "Miller Specials" have carried such men as Tommy Milton, Ralph DePalma, Harry Hartz, Louis Meyer, Jimmy Murphy and Pete DePaola to victory in thrilling national championship races at the Indianapolis, Syracuse and other speedways.

In the field of marine engines Miller has made almost as much engineering contribution as he has in automobile racing motors. His Model 91 engine was the first to use a high speed propellor, and it won the Duke of York Trophy Race in 1926. Since that time all racing boats have used high speed propellors, some of them running up to 9,000 revolutions per minute. Miller marine engines hold all speed records from 91 up to 510 cubic inches piston displacement.

Sets World Record

His "Miller 151" marine engine broke the world's hydroplane speed record in 1927 at Newport Bay, California, and won first place in aquatic events at Saratoga, Winterhaven, Palm Beach, Miami and Mt. Dora, Florida, and also at Havana, Cuba, and San Diego and Long Beach, Calif.

Among the engineering developments in which Miller pioneered are front drive and four-wheel drive racing cars, aluminum alloy pistons, super-chargers and downdraft carburetors. In addition to marine and auto design he has done considerable work with aviation engines.

Power Company Warns of Dangers of Kite Flying

A warning to the parents of boys who fly kites was issued today by officials of the Texas Power & Light Company, in which attention was called to the dangers incurred by flying kites near electric wires. It was pointed out that serious accidents have resulted from kites becoming entangled in wires and the subsequent efforts of boys to get them down.

"Boys should be cautioned to fly kites only in open places," power company officials declared. "If kites become entangled in the electric wires, under no circumstances should boys try to get them down. The Texas Power & Light Company will gladly send out trained men who understand the danger of high voltage electric current to remove the kite.

"Kites with metal frames and the use of fine wire instead of cotton string are two other great hazzards, for if the metal frame or the wire string comes in contact with electric wires, serious injury may result and electric service to a large part of town may be interrupted."

It was pointed out that teachers, as well as parents, can render a valuable public service by taking the time to warn youngsters of the dangers incident to kite flying, cautioning them to observe rules of safety in this popular pastime. Boys Scouts have often been instructed in the rules for safe kite flying and can contribute much by warning others.
